

Marisa Hall MSc, FIA

Co-head of the Thinking Ahead Institute

Marisa is co-head of the Thinking Ahead Institute, a global not-for-profit investment research network focussed on mobilising capital for a sustainable future. The Institute's membership includes more than 55 of the world's largest asset owners and asset managers with combined responsibility for over USD$16 trillion. Prior to joining the Institute, Marisa was a Senior Investment Consultant in WTW's client advisory business.

Marisa is a Fellow of the Institute and Faculty of Actuaries (FIA) and holds the Investment Management Certificate (IMC). She has a MSc (Distinction) from CASS Business School, London and a first-class degree (BSc Hons) in Mathematics from the University of the West Indies. Marisa has a keen interest in sustainability, governance, culture and the future of work and has published a number of thought pieces in these areas.

Marisa was named on the 2020 list of Financial News' Rising Stars of Asset Management in Europe and was winner of 'Woman of the Year' in the 2020 Women in Finance Summit & Awards Series. She also featured on the 2021 Institute and Faculty of Actuaries (IFoA) roll call of thought leaders in the category of 'actuaries changing mindsets'. She is on the standing committee of Investment 20/20 – a UK based not-for-profit which focuses on attracting diverse talent into the industry. Marisa also serves on the steering committee of #talkaboutblack, a powerful movement that aims to improve the conversation on ethnic diversity. This falls under the UK wide industry initiative, The Diversity Project.
